

IGEA

Design: Maddalena Casadei

IGEA sofa is characterized by a system of modular elements that give a high degree of freedom of combinations. The characterizing element is the slight overlap of the armrest and the backrest compared to the seat which causes the angle to assume a new importance, thanks also to its soft and cozy but at the same time sustained lines. A sofa halfway between home and contract.

Technical information

Frame: Internal structure in plywood.

Seat cushion padding: Variable-density polyurethane foam padding.

Cover: Leather or Fabric.

